The BioAccord System is fully integrated and has SmartMS at its core, simplifying high performance LC-MS analysis for every user.

The BioAccord™ System with SmartMS™ provides a new level of user experience through simple, consistent, automated setup for bench scientists. Reduce training, save time, and ensure consistently reproducible results to eliminate bottlenecks and speed up decision-making. Efficiently transform analytical data into meaningful information and increase your opportunity of being first to market. A combination of automated start-up and optimization, intelligent diagnostics, and intuitive software sets a new standard for accessibility. Using one software platform with a single, complete audit trail for acquisition, processing, and reporting reduces risk and simplifies audit preparation.

Don't allow budget challenges to keep you from accessing this exciting new technology. Let Waters Capital help you optimize your budget and upgrade your lab to allow you to focus on advancing your science.
